The annual report of the Board of Education shows that the total number of pupils attending the schools is 2.49, about 1 per cent less than last year. The decrease has been caused by the opening of parochial schools, and in reality the school population has much increased. For three years the accommodations have been entirely insidequate and many children have been unable to attend school owing to the lack of room, but upon the completion of the two new buildings in Wingate-ave, and Huguenot-st., in September, ample from for every child will be available. The total bonded indebtedness for the district is $18,60.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH PERJURY

ACCUSED OF SWEARING FALSELY IN A MARRIAGE

ANNULMENT SUIT.

Mrs. Amelia J. Cornell, of Saratoga Springs, was arraigned in the Centre-st. police court yesterday on a charge of perjury. She was arrested on Friday at her home, in Saratoga Springs, and brought to this city by Detective-Sergeant Campbell. Her examination will take place next week.

Mrs. Cornell is charged with having committed perjury by testifying that she witnessed the marriage of Lillian Allen and Guy Stark, of this city, in the Hotel Empire, at Saratoga Springs, in March, 1888, and afterward testifying that Guy Stark was Guy H. Reynolds.

On August 6 of last year an action was brought in the Supreme Court, entitled Lillian Reynolds vs. Guy H. Reynolds. It was to annul a marriage alleged to have been solemnized on March 21, 1888, Lillian Allen and Guy Stark. The plaintiff testified was heard by ex-Judge Charles Donohue, acting as

Mrs. Cornell appeared as a witness, and testified that she was present at the marriage of the plain-tiff and the defendant, and that the defendant, then known as Guy Stark, was now known as Guy H. Their story was that they were passing the corner and were suddenly surrounded by five persons, three of whom were women. William swore that in his neckscarf he had a diamond pin valued at $175, and that one woman grabbed this while another made a grab at the waisteoat pocket of James. For the time being the thieves got away, but Detective Mahoney, of the West Thirty-seventh-st. Station, soon arrested them. The prisoners were kate Allen. Annie Allen, Whillam Hrennan, Frederick Schroeder and Mary Morris, of No. 273 West Twenty-eighth-st.

When Detective Mahoney searched the prisoners at the station he found in Brennan's possession a diamond pin that Mr. Titzell identified as his property. When the case reached court yesterday morning the Titzells were on hand to press the charge. Kate Allen was charged with stealing the pin from Whilam Titzell. Brennan and the Morris woman were charged with the larceny of $1$ from John Titzell. In the first case the Magistrate held Kate in $1.500 ball for trial. The other two, Brennan and Morris, had engaged counsel, and they were held in $1.500 ball for examination to-day.

Detective Mahoney was unable to secure any direct evidence against Schroeder and Annie Allen, and they were therefore discharged. Detective Mahoney said that Brennan was known as "Kid" Hawley and had a record, and that the Allen women had been in trouble before.
